

COMPETITION INFO 2022

While not always ideal, we made it through the 2020 & 2021 competition season. We are going into 2022 with excitement and anticipation; looking forward to seeing our athletes on stage.

With participation on a competitive team comes a lot of responsibility. Your spot and/or routine is choreographed for you, it isn't replaceable. Therefore; the following commitments are required by you and your family.

Attendance

You are committing to attend ALL competitions entered. If a competition is not able to be attended, you are required to let Stephanie know before the season starts. It will be up to your Coach whether you will be able to proceed on the team or not. The exception may be Nationals in Queensland as I understand the apprehension of traveling interstate, though this will need to be discussed up front with your teammates and coach.

Attendance at all trainings is imperative. Unless vomiting or showing signs of symptoms of COVID, athletes are expected at weekly training. If an athlete misses more than three trainings in a semester, they will be removed from the team. If sick or injured, athletes are expected to attend and watch training to observe any corrections or changes given.

Athletes are required to give their 100% at all times and be encouraging of their teammates.

Financial Commitment

The following is a list of expenses to consider when committing to a competition team:

- travel to and from competitions (please note Nationals for is in Queensland if you qualify and Covid allows)
- entry fees (between $35-$75 per item, per competition)
- spectator fees (around $25 per person, per day, per competition)
- costume purchase
- Aerobics music fee - $25/routine

Covid

With the current COVID situation, we have to be prepared for last minute changes and online competitions. After two years of working with this, most competitions have a fall back plan, that works, and the show will go on whether live or online. Please understand that Peninsula Dance Elite does not have anything to do with these decisions and should a decision need to be made as a team, you will be consulted.

Enjoying the Journey

Being part of a competition team is very rewarding. Friendships grow through teamwork, confidence improves and qualities such as sportsmanship are learnt. Competition should be a positive experience regardless of the result. Our competition families need to be willing to accept defeat and celebrate victory humbly.
